BYRCE SAYS DISSOLUTION IS WITHOUT PRECEDENT

DENOUNCES ACTION OF LORD SALISBURY AND HIS MINISTRY.

All Concede That Chamberlain Showed Great Shrewdness in Carrying His Point—Back at His Desk.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: James Bryce says that the dissolution of the British parliament was quite without precedent and quite opposed to the spirit and usages of the British constitution. The law fixes the duration of parliament and established usages has settled that parliament ought not to be dissolved prematurely save to take the opinion of the country upon some definite issue, usually when a bill has been rejected or the ministry censured.

To spring dissolution especially upon a stale register for the sake of party advantage is a new departure and a very bad one here. There has been really no issue before the country because the war is over and annexation is fact accomplished. Consequently this general election settles nothing and outlines no future policy foreign or domestic. No one has the least idea what the ministry will now do. Perhaps they don't know themselves.

Mr. Bryce is not disheartened by the results of the elections. He maintains that too much discouragement is expressed regarding the position of the liberal party. He says:

"Considering the difficulties under which it has had to fight this election, it has given proofs of strength which make it probable that before long the current may be setting in its favor. The disparity represented by the number of members of each party returned is very much greater than the disparity represented by the votes cast."

Mr. Bryce's personal triumph in securing his re-election has been rendered more significant by the unexpected success of the unionists in upsetting a strong liberal majority in Aberdeenshire and winning their sixth seat in Scotland. This gain gave them a lead of a single seat over the majority of the last parliament with only one out of seven seats to defend in the remaining contests.

Mr. Chamberlain, having finished the work of the canvass has returned to the Colonial office, where business is in arrears. The only hint which has been thrown out respecting the form of settlement in South Africa is his own forecast that the new territories will be governed as crown colonies after they have passed out of the condition of military rule. Opposition is offered by some critics that this will mean government by Downing street, with all the wires in the hands of Mr. Chamberlain. His enemies are hardly consistent when they insist that he must mop up the mess which he has made and at the same time object to his keeping the tentative administration of the colonies under his own direction.

His detractors are forced to concede that he was a shrewd politician in bringing on dissolution when he did. The unionists have hardly kept their majority under most favorable conditions. They would certainly have reduced it by waiting until January or March. The cost of living has run up by leaps and bounds and the various industries are hampered by high prices of coal and raw material. The cotton supply for Lancashire is a serious problem which menaces the working class with loss of employment and the full burden of increased income taxation will be felt during the spring. The khaki election was adroitly timed for the government, but it was premature so far as Lord Roberts is concerned, since his return is not expected until January.

SURPRISED BY INSURGENTS.

Telegraph Repairs Routed—Party of Scouts Surprised.

MANILA, Oct. 16, (Via Hongkong).—A detachment of twenty men of the Twenty-fourth regiment while engaged in repairing telegraph wires October 10 at a point near San Jose, Nueva Ecija province, Isle de Luzon, were set upon by 200 rebels and were overpowered and scattered. Several of the Americans reached San Jose, but it is probable that the remainder were captured.

The enemy surprised a party of scouts of the Forty-third infantry at a point three miles from Takloban, Leyte island, killing three of the Americans at the first volley. Two escaped and gave the alarm, but the enemy succeeded in evading their pursuers. The native police of Takloban had conspired to surprise the Americans. The bodies of the dead soldiers were badly mutilated.

New Cable for Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—General Greely has received a report from Manila saying that sixty miles of cable for use in the Philippines has arrived and will enable the signal corps to complete a number of telegraph lines in the islands. Lieutenant Clifton R. Berry, signal corps has been discharged on account of disability. He was serving in the Philippines. This is the first officer of the signal corps who has had to retire on account of ill health.

PERILOUS VOYAGE OF

THE LANE FROM NOME

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Oct. 17.—After a tempestuous voyage, marked by a thorough breakdown of the motive power, an overloading of passengers and a scarcity of provisions, the steamship Charles D. Lane reached Port Townsend seventeen days from Nome. Several times during the journey it looked as if the end of the vessel had arrived and passengers and crew agreed that they owe their salvation to the fact that an expert boiler-maker, Mr. Molander, of Port Townsend, was aboard. The boilers of the Lane leaked so badly as to extinguish the fire and make an explosion imminent. For three days and a half the vessel was tossed about on the angry waves of Bering Sea, absolutely helpless, not being provided with sufficient coal to keep her from the storm, which had the wind been favorable, and unprovided with anchors to have held off from any rocky shore on which the tempest might have driven her.

At the end of the time mentioned, after a period of terrible anxiety among both passengers and crew, Mr. Molander has repaired the boilers so it was possible to re-lighten and proceed here.

It Happened in a Drug Store.

"One day last winter a lady came to my drug store and asked for a bottle of cough medicine that I did not have in stock," says Mr. C. R. Grandin, the popular druggist of Ontario, N. Y. "She was disappointed and wanted to know what cough preparation I could recommend. I said to her that I could freely recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and that she could take a bottle of the remedy and after giving it a fair trial if she did not find it worth the money to bring back the bottle and I would refund the price paid. In the course of a day or two the lady came back in company with a friend in need of a cough medicine and advised her to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I consider that a very good recommendation of the remedy." The remedy owes its great popularity and extensive sale in a large measure to the personal recommendations of people who have been cured by its use. It is for sale by Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Territory of Hawaii.
